HALLOWEEN!

For anyone keeping score, this is the seventh, yes SEVENTH, consecutive year we have printed a CCAF anthology.

That's seven years of us reaching out to our local artists, hat in hand, as we ask if we might please have another sheaf of comics to share with the public.

Every year they come through.

We've got comics with action, comedy, and commentary, by artists from a wide range of ages and experiences, but the one thing every creator in this book has in common is that they are from Here. They are our friends, family, and neighbors, some of whom we may never have realized could even make a comic.

...Which is really what makes comics such a valuable art form: they are approachable, they are adaptable, and they can allow anyone to take an inkling and turn it into art.

And if ANYONE could make a comic, doesn't that include you, too? Maybe you could take those margin doodles and shower notions and put them on a page. Maybe they could be something you'd enjoy making and others would enjoy reading.
Maybe you could do that.

The best way to find out is to try...
